

A firm or person engaged in executing orders to buy or sell futures contracts for customers. A full service broker offers market information and advice to assist the customer in trading. A discount broker simply executes orders for customers.